JULIAN BYRD Manager

According to the eminent physician and surgeon, Sir Frederic Treves, we ought not to complain of sneezing, catarrh, coughing, and the general discomfort that ordinarily accompany a common cold. They are not symptoms of disease, but proofs that the system is defending itself. The efforts of the sufferer, says the distinguished authority should not be directed to stopping them directly but to aiding nature, which is putting up a brave fight against dangerous bacteria. Indeed, a cold would in the majority of cases prove fatal if these symptoms of resistance were not present. The presence of infection would not be discovered until the bacteria were so numerous that the fight would be hopeless. A medicine that merely stops coughing or relieves inflammation may be thwarting nature's efforts to cure.—Boston Herald.

In getting a foundation for horse breeding Japan shows the same disposition to begin with the best that can be obtained that has characterized her efforts in other directions. Representatives have been sent to the different countries to see for themselves the character of the horses raised in each, and it is a distinct compliment to the breeders of the United States that this country was selected as the one to draw on for foundation stock. It may be noted, too, that the greater part of the horses purchased in this country by the Japanese have been trotting horses. They have bought some thoroughbreds to use in building up the cavalry horses, but as the general purpose horse it seems evident that the trotting bred horse will take the same prominence in Japan as it has in this country.

The methods of sale by which the state of Idaho realizes from $20 to $40 per acre on its school lands is in sharp and painful contrast of Oregon's shameless squandering of the nation's gift—the birthright of her children. And the greatest shame for Oregon is that the shame still persists. Time and obloquy fail to end the abuse.

Had the rich timber section which sold for $25,500 in Idaho lain just across the Snake river it would have brought the measly sum of $1600. Sixteen hundred dollars for Oregon girls and boys, or twenty-five thousand dollars for Idaho children. Truly, we eat sour grapes and our children's teeth are set on edge for the third and fourth generation. When Idaho distributes dollars per capita for the education of coming generations, Oregon will be apportioning cents.

This will be a heavy handicap for the young citizens of Oregon to carry. It is a heavy price for the state to pay for the present material wealth. It is on a par with the political economy of the southern savages who ate the seed corn and work oxen supplied for crop production by philanthropists.

Greedy land barons may be necessary to the development of this state. The policy has prevailed, however, for forty years, and the state, the peer of any in the northwest, twenty-five years ahead in years, is twenty-five years behind in progress.

Timber land bought last summer from the state at $2.50 per acre is now selling, it is reported, at $6.25. This is a clear gain of $400 per section. The land is in this county of Grant, near Astoria.

If President Roosevelt, Secretary Hitchcock, Senator Fulton, Governor Chamberlain, Land Agent West, or any other person can turn that increment into the little children's fund, those children will rise up and call him blessed. But if that person can secure from the timber hogs the full value as in Idaho the little ones will take his memory still closer to their hearts and call him a "dando."—Grant County News.
